Resilience in Practice - World Vision Chad

Chad is the epicenter of the resilience deficit in the Sahel, evidence suggests. In 2013, what are the evidence-based priority humanitarian needs? How do programs of USAID and the international community contribute to building resilience? What must be done to reduce preventable deaths in Chad and the region? John Scicchitano, national director of World Vision Chad, presents evidence and strategy informed by 15 years working on Sahel issues.

The event will take place Thursday, May 30 from 10-11 AM in Washington, DC at the Ronald Reagan Building, Mezzanine Rooms M-17&18. For more information contact: Jessica Hartl, jhartl@usaid.gov or 202-712-4039. No RSVP required.

The TOPS Program was made possible by the generous support and contribution of the American people through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). The contents of this newsletter do not necessarily reflect the views of USAID or the United States Government.

The FSN Network is being spearheaded by TOPS, a USAID/FFP funded program seeking to build the capacity of FFP grantees and other food security and nutrition implementers. The program is working to improve the quality of implementation through fostering collaboration, innovation, and knowledge sharing around food security and nutrition best practices.
