Ag Indicator Guide-Draft Two and Webinar

The second draft of the Feed the Future \(FTF\) Agricultural Indicators Guide is now available. This draft incorporates feedback from an initial group of select reviewers, but needs further examination by the sharp eyes of a wider set of stakeholders. Please review this draft and note questions, concerns, and suggestions. Feed the Future would particularly appreciate:

- Feedback on the suggested approaches to data collection described in the guide
- Suggestions on additional situations, challenges or questions that the guide should address
- Suggestions on additional approaches or options that the guide should include or discuss.

If you have written comments to share, please email them to Suzanne Nelson (suzanne@tangointernational.com) by noon on Wednesday, August 21.

As a reminder, there will be webinars on August 12 and 13 to discuss and capture feedback on this draft of the Ag Indicators Guide. These webinars will be the last opportunity for FTF stakeholders to provide feedback on the guide before it is finalized in September. The webinar is offered in three different time slots, but participants need only register for one session. Please register early to ensure your participation.

The TOPS Program was made possible by the generous support and contribution of the American people through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). The contents of this newsletter do not necessarily reflect the views of USAID or the United States Government.

The FSN Network is being spearheaded by TOPS, a USAID/FFP funded program seeking to build the capacity of FFP grantees and other food security and nutrition implementers. The program is working to improve the quality of implementation through fostering collaboration, innovation, and knowledge sharing around food security and nutrition best practices.
