Building Effective Collaboration and Integrated Programming

Thursday, May 7, 2015

Capital Room, Beacon Hotel, 1615 Rhode Island Avenue NW,
Washington, DC

Please join PCI and TOPS for a first peek at a brand new TOPS-funded tool designed for program designers and implementers: Resource Guide for Building Effective Collaboration and Integrated Programming.

This hot-off-the-press Resource Guide was developed using an innovative, participatory process of extracting practical guidance, lessons learned and promising practices from the work PCI has been doing as facilitator of the USAID/USDA Coordination Committee in Huehuetenango, Guatemala, as well as promising/best practices and experience in effective coordination from many other food and nutrition security implementing organizations around the world.

A panel of PCI staff from Guatemala, as well as the consultant who developed the Resource Guide, will share with participants how the Resource Guide was developed, orient participants to the key concepts and components of the Resource Guide, and work with participants to find its utility and application in their own work via facilitated group discussion.

Coffee and Snacks will be provided.
